VIVOTEK Wins the Symbol of Excellence Award 2006

VIVOTEK is pleased and proud to announce that two of our latest products -- PT7135/7137 and IP7135/7135 have been awarded the highly prestigious the Symbol of Excellence Award, presented by CETRA (China External Trade Development Council), an affiliate of the Ministry of Economic Affairs of the Republic of China.

Judged by a panel of experts, the Symbol of Excellence products excel in the following five categories: R&D/innovation, product design, quality system, market strategy, and brand perception. Since its inception, the Symbol of Excellence has become the most prestigious product recognition program in Asia, with hundreds of Taiwan companies competing annually for this award.

These two models are the results of VIVOTEK's commitment and continuous effort in Research & Development to provide quality products for demanding applications. Once again, our winning the Symbol of Excellence Award serves as an excellent demonstration of VIVOTEK's devotion in fulfilling our goal "A Leading Provider of Multimedia Communication Solutions".

VIVOTEK is Ranked No. 41 in Security 50 by A&S

VIVOTEK is so excited about the research result of 2006 security 50, conducted by A&S Magazine, a monthly professional publication for channel players since 1997. As a newcomer in the list this year, we are not only ranked No. 41 with the revenue base over 2004 - 2005, but also listed in the top 10 revenue growths and profit growth among the 50s at 82.3% and 83.5% respectively. "Our fast growth was born out of our consistency in delivering innovative products meeting global markets' needs and technological trend. We all realize that whether it's cost, performance, scalability, reliability or any other measures that is examined, IP-based surveillance has become a leading security solutions and will continue to evolve." said Owen Chen, the chairman of VIVOTEK. With such a successful achievement, we will be relentless to drive ourselves to work more diligently so as to obtain our goal -- A Leading Provider of Multimedia Communication Solutions.
